

SUEZ and UnitedGlobalCom in exclusive negotiations on Noos

Denver, Colorado – March 4, 2004: UnitedGlobalCom, Inc. ("UGC" or the "Company") (Nasdaq: UCOMA) and the French SUEZ group announced today that they have entered into exclusive negotiations on the sale of Noos, the largest French cable operator, from SUEZ to UGC's French holding company Mediareseaux.

Based on a firm offer, the price of the transaction values the enterprise at 7.25 times annualized 2004 EBITDA at closing, capped to a maximum price of EUR 660 million.

The transaction is in line with Suez's plans, announced in September 2003 at the presentation of its half year results, of exiting the communications sector.

The transaction also conforms with the strategy of UGC, Europe's largest cable operator, to expand in markets with strong growth potential and where it has existing operations. It is expected that this transaction will create a platform for further growth and innovation and the scale needed to effectively compete in the French market. The transaction provides significant opportunities to modernise and leverage the current cable networks, technology operations and back-office systems and will accelerate the introduction of new and innovative products and services.
